The Environmental Systems Research Institute (Esri) publishes proprietary geographic information systems (GIS) software and services. This contract award is intended to provide a direct means for State of Alaska executive branch, legislative branch, and court system agencies, along with qualifying political subdivisions to purchase the following Esri products and services:

- 1) Esri Branded Enterprise Software: The software available from this contract is listed in the attached price list. Executive branch agencies must complete a Brand Specific Determination as described below.
- 2) Software Maintenance: All software maintenance available from Esri may be purchased from this contract.
- 3) ESRI Training: Esri offers a wide range of training courses that can be presented locally or at the Esri Learning Center in Redlands, California. Course titles are included in the attached price list or at: <http://www.esri.com/training/main>

The terms & conditions for training are located in Article 6 of the attached Master Purchase Agreement.

- 4) Esri Enterprise Advantage Program (EAP): The EAP is a subscription service for preferred high volume customers and provides services such as an assigned technical advisor, annual planning and review, a collaborative technical work plan, quarterly technology, and flexible access to assistance for training, premium support, and consulting support:

The EAP is not a solution for individual projects but rather a tool to provide assistance for an agency that needs more of a master plan for engaging Esri. Contact Esri for more information regarding the EAP.

- 5) Esri Enterprise Licensing Agreements (ELA): Esri offers ELAs that, depending on annual usage, offer lower pricing for Esri products and services. Contact Esri for more information regarding ELAs.
